

Board of Directors, Finance and Audit Committee and Management
Christel House International, Inc. and Affiliates
Indianapolis, Indiana

As part of our audit of the combined and consolidated financial statements of Christel House International, Inc. (CHI) and Affiliates (collectively known as “Christel House”) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2021, we wish to communicate the following to you.

AUDIT SCOPE AND RESULTS

Auditor’s Responsibility Under Auditing Standards Generally Accepted in the United States of America

An audit performed in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America is designed to obtain reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance about the combined and consolidated financial statements. In performing auditing procedures, we establish scopes of audit tests in relation to the combined and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole. Our engagement does not include a detailed audit of every transaction. Our contract more specifically describes our responsibilities.

These standards require communication of significant matters related to the financial statement audit that are relevant to the responsibilities of those charged with governance in overseeing the financial reporting process. Such matters are communicated in the remainder of this letter or have previously been communicated during other phases of the audit. The standards do not require the auditor to design procedures for the purpose of identifying other matters to be communicated with those charged with governance.

An audit of the combined and consolidated financial statements does not relieve management or those charged with governance of their responsibilities. Our contract more specifically describes your responsibilities.

Other Information Accompanying the Audited Financial Statements

The annual report includes other information including the 2021 combined unaudited revenue and the 2021 combined unaudited expenses. Management is responsible for preparing the annual report. We were not engaged to audit the information contained in the annual report and as a result our opinion does not provide assurance as to the completeness and accuracy of the information contained therein. Instead, our objectives with regard to such information were to:

- Consider whether a material inconsistency exists between the other information and the financial statements
- Remain alert for indications that:
 - A material inconsistency exists between the other information and the auditor's knowledge obtained in the audit, or
 - A material misstatement of fact exists or the other information is otherwise misleading

- Respond appropriately when we identify that such material inconsistencies appear to exist or when we otherwise become aware that other information appears to be materially misstated. Potential responsive actions would include requesting management to correct the identified inconsistency
- Include the appropriate communication in our auditor's report, disclosing the procedures performed on the Other Information, as well as the results obtained

The 2021 unaudited combined revenue and 2021 unaudited combined expenses includes the activity of Christel House Academy, Inc. which, as disclosed in Note 1, is not included within these consolidated financial statements. This inclusion leads to a material difference between the combined revenue and expenses included within the annual report to those included within these audited financial statements. We recommend a disclosure be added to the annual report to highlight the inclusion of Christel House Academy, Inc. with a reference to the availability of their audited financial statements.

Qualitative Aspects of Significant Accounting Policies and Practices

Significant Accounting Policies

Christel House's significant accounting policies are described in Note 1 of the audited combined and consolidated financial statements.

Alternative Accounting Treatments

We had discussions with management regarding alternative accounting treatments within accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for policies and practices for material items, including recognition, measurement, and disclosure considerations related to the accounting for specific transactions as well as general accounting policies, as follows:

- No matters are reportable

Management Judgments and Accounting Estimates

Accounting estimates are an integral part of financial statement preparation by management, based on its judgments. The following involve significant areas of such estimates for which we are prepared to discuss management's estimation process and our procedures for testing the reasonableness of those estimates:

- Fair value of investments
- Estimated useful lives of property and equipment and rental property
- Allocation of functional expenses

Significant Unusual Transactions

Significant unusual transactions represent significant transactions that are outside the normal course of business for the entity or that otherwise appear to be unusual due to their timing, size, or nature. We have identified the following transactions that we consider to be significant and unusual:

- The listing of certain rental property for sale (assets held for sale) and the write-down recognized related to the assets held for sale

Combined and Consolidated Financial Statement Disclosures

The following areas involve particularly sensitive financial statement disclosures for which we are prepared to discuss the issues involved and related judgments made in formulating those disclosures:

- Fair value disclosure
- Principles of combination and consolidation
- Related parties

Audit Adjustments

During the course of any audit, an auditor may propose adjustments to financial statement amounts. Management evaluates our proposals and records those adjustments which, in its judgment, are required to prevent the combined and consolidated financial statements from being materially misstated. A misstatement is a difference between the amount, classification, presentation, or disclosure of a reported financial statement item and that which is required for the item to be presented fairly in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework. We did not propose any adjustments as a result of our audit.

Auditor's Judgments About the Quality of the Entity's Accounting Principles

During the course of the audit, we made the following observations regarding Christel House's application of accounting principles:

- No matters are reportable

Significant Issues Discussed With Management

During the Audit Process

During the audit process, the following issues were discussed or were the subject of correspondence with management:

- Net assets released from restriction related to Founder funding

Other Written Material Communications

The only other material communications between management and us related to the audit is the management representation letter, a copy of which is attached.

INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

In planning and performing our audit of the combined and consolidated financial statements of Christel House as of and for the year ended December 31, 2021, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Christel House's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our audit procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the combined and consolidated financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Christel House's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Christel House's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of Christel House's combined and consolidated financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. Given these limitations, during our audit, we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

FUTURE ACCOUNTING CONSIDERATIONS

Lease Accounting Standard (December 31, 2022)

FASB has issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842). The FASB has issued various ASUs since that date related to Topic 842 as well seeking to clarify guidance and provide more transition relief in certain areas.

Under the ASU, lessees will recognize lease assets and liabilities on their balance sheet for all leases with terms of more than 12 months. The new lessee accounting model retains two types of leases and is consistent with the lessee accounting model under existing GAAP. One type of lease (finance leases) will be accounted for in substantially the same manner as capital leases are accounted for today. The other type of lease (operating leases) will be accounted for (both in the income statement and statement of cash flows) in a manner consistent with today's operating leases. Lessor accounting under the standard is fundamentally consistent with existing GAAP.

Lessees and lessors would be required to provide additional qualitative and quantitative disclosures to help financial statement users assess the amount, timing, and uncertainty of cash flows arising from leases. These disclosures are intended to supplement the amounts recorded in the financial statements so that users can understand more about the nature of an organization's leasing activities.

Effective Dates

- For public business entities, not-for-profit entities that have issued, or is a conduit bond obligor for, securities that are traded, listed or quoted on an exchange or an over-the-counter market, and employee benefit plans that file financial statements within the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, the final leases standard will be effective* for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018 including interim periods within those fiscal years.

* Upon the issuance of ASU 2020-05 on June 3, 2020, public not-for-profit organizations that have not yet issued (or made available to issue) financial statements reflecting the adoption of the leases guidance are required to apply the standard for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, including interim periods within those fiscal years.

- Upon the issuance of ASU 2020-05 on June 3, 2020, all other entities are currently required to adopt Topic 842 for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2022.

ASU 2020-07, Topic 958: Presentation and Disclosures by Not-for-Profit Entities for Contributed Nonfinancial Assets (December 31, 2022)

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2020-07, Topic 958: Presentation and Disclosures by Not-for-Profit Entities for Contributed Nonfinancial Assets to increase the transparency of contributed nonfinancial assets through enhancements to presentation and disclosure. The standard requires contributed nonfinancial assets to be presented on a separate line item in the statement of activities, segregated apart from contributions of cash and other financial assets. Additionally, disclosure requirements have been amended to require a disaggregation of the amount of contributed nonfinancial assets recognized within the statement of activities by category that depicts the type of contributed nonfinancial assets, as well as specific disclosure requirements for each category recognized. The amendments in this Update should be applied on a retrospective basis and are effective for annual periods beginning after June 15, 2021. Early adoption is permitted.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, the Finance and Audit Committee and others within the organization and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

An omission or misstatement that is monetarily small in amount could be considered material as a result of qualitative factors.

20. The combined and consolidated financial statements disclose all significant estimates and material concentrations known to us. Significant estimates are estimates at the balance sheet date that could change materially within the next year. Concentrations refer to volumes of business, revenues, available sources of supply, or markets for which events could occur that would significantly disrupt normal finances within the next year. Significant assumptions used by us in making accounting estimates, including those measured at fair value, are reasonable.
21. The fair values of financial and nonfinancial assets and liabilities, if any, recognized in the combined and consolidated financial statements or disclosed in the notes thereto are reasonable estimates based on the methods and assumptions used. The methods and significant assumptions used result in measurements of fair value appropriate for financial statement recognition and disclosure purposes and have been applied consistently from period to period, taking into account any changes in circumstances. The significant assumptions appropriately reflect market participant assumptions.

26. We are an entity exempt from income tax under Section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code and a similar provision of state law and, except as disclosed in the combined and consolidated financial statements, there are no activities that would jeopardize our tax-exempt status or subject us to income tax on unrelated business income or excise tax on prohibited transactions and events.

27. We acknowledge the entity is not a conduit debt obligor whose debt securities are listed, quoted, or traded on an exchange or an over-the-counter market. As a result, we acknowledge the entity does not meet the definition of a "public entity" under generally accepted accounting principles for certain accounting standards.
28. With regard to supplementary information:
- a. We acknowledge our responsibility for the presentation of the supplementary information in accordance with the applicable criteria.

29. With regard to other information that is presented in the form of our annual report:
- a. The other information presented is unaudited and labeled as unaudited.
 - b. The 2021 unaudited combined revenue and 2021 unaudited combined expenses includes the activity of Christel House Academy, Inc. which, as disclosed in Note 1, is not included within these combined and consolidated financial statements. This inclusion leads to a material difference between the combined revenue and expenses included within the annual report to those included within these audited combined and consolidated financial statements.
30. We have evaluated whether there are conditions or events known or reasonably knowable, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the entity's ability to continue as a going concern within one year of the date of this letter without consideration of potential mitigating effects of management's plans not yet fully implemented and concluded substantial doubt does not exist.
31. We acknowledge the current economic volatility presents difficult circumstances and challenges for our industry. Entities are potentially facing declines in the fair values of investments and other assets, declines in the volume of business/contributions, constraints on liquidity, difficulty obtaining financing, etc. We understand the values of the assets and liabilities recorded in the combined and consolidated financial statements could change rapidly, resulting in material future adjustments to asset values, allowances for accounts, notes/contributions receivable, etc., that could negatively impact the entity's ability to meet debt covenants or maintain sufficient liquidity.

We acknowledge that you have no responsibility for future changes caused by the current economic environment and the resulting impact on the entity's combined and consolidated financial statements. Further, management and governance are solely responsible for all aspects of managing the entity, including questioning the quality and valuation of investments and other assets, reviewing allowances for uncollectible amounts, evaluating capital needs and liquidity plans, etc.
