Letter from Christel

Time. It is the only asset in the world distributed equally to all. Yet people use this asset very differently. Future events are often influenced by present actions and decisions. But impoverished children seldom have the ability to impact their futures. For them, “future” is often undefined, because life in the present is a constant struggle. As a society, we must invest in transforming their future from a life of poverty into one of self-sufficiency and dignity. Every child deserves a seat at the table of life.

At Christel House we are succeeding, as you will see in the pages of this annual report. Our students are excelling academically and are learning the important life skills of planning and preparation—necessary for building a brighter future. Our graduates distinguish themselves through their achievements, comportment, confidence, and by giving back.

You, our loyal supporters, are an important part of transforming these lives. Please take a few minutes to enjoy reading about the accomplishments of our students. It will inspire and give you hope.

Warmest regards,

Christel DeHaan
Founder and CEO
Building the Future

Breaking through the barriers of poverty requires tenacity and determination. It requires adherence to rigorous educational and business practices, high measures of accountability and complete transparency. Every learning center’s financial statements are audited internally and externally, annually, and clean opinions were received from all centers in their most recently submitted audits.

I was nine when I started at Christel House in 2002. I had already learnt the ways of hardships and poverty. My mom worked long hours and my father was unemployed, so every day after school, my brother and I ran home to fetch our baby sister from the neighbor’s house. We would juggle changing diapers, doing homework and doing our chores before our parents got home to a meal cooked by one of us.

Growing up in notorious Manenberg (a township in Cape Town), I always hoped for something better – a big home filled with toys and happiness. But my home was no different than our neighbors’ homes, where substance, physical and drug abuse are served with breakfast, lunch and supper. Unemployment is high. Poverty greets you at dawn, gunshots wish you goodnight and drug addicts want to be your friends. But, Christel House was my safe haven. There, everything changed. I went from unhappy and unlucky, to being the happiest and luckiest kid ever! At Christel House I was taught everything – values, morals, etiquette, communication skills, emotional intelligence, education, happiness – everything. The journey of Christel House was precious. From being picked up in the morning, to receiving wholesome meals, quality education and lifelong values, I learned Christel House was my family.

A Christel House teacher taught me fencing and later I became a qualified fencing coach. On weekends, I offer free fencing lessons to children in Manenburg. I also help young people from my community make decisions about their future, apply to school or find meaningful jobs, just like Christel House helps me and 190 other graduates.

I am now a final year student at university, completing my Sports Management qualification. At Christel House, not only did I learn to become independent, responsible and respectful, but I also have what I know is the foundation to living a successful life – integrity.
